Between Walls I

Picture Description¹⁾

A narrow alleyway leads to a modern building framed by older brick and concrete structures.

Analysis¹⁾

This photograph captures an urban alleyway, framed by the converging lines of aged buildings. The left side features a textured, grey wall with a functional utility box, contrasting with the rough, dark brick wall on the right, marked by weathered surfaces and the trace of utility lines. The alley floor, paved with light-colored bricks, leads the eye toward a modern structure in the distance, its grid of windows a stark contrast to the surrounding decay. The narrow passage creates a sense of depth and isolation, hinting at the hidden spaces within the city's fabric.
