Shadows on the Wall

Picture Description¹⁾

A shadowed silhouette of a person stands amid tree branch shadows cast on a surface with a hint of red.

Analysis¹⁾

The artwork presents a high-contrast, monochromatic photograph primarily composed of shadows cast onto a textured surface, possibly a wall or fabric. The dominant forms are the stark, silhouetted branches of a tree, creating an intricate network of dark lines against a lighter backdrop. Notably, the silhouette of a human head is visible, adding a touch of human presence to the otherwise abstract composition. A geometric shape with colors in red, white and black appears in the background. The overall effect is both intriguing and slightly unsettling, playing with themes of perception, absence, and the interplay of light and darkness.
