Winter Grey III

Picture Description¹⁾

A stark black and white photograph depicts a winter landscape with leafless trees lining a snow-covered path next to a roadside barrier.

Analysis¹⁾
