Self Mirrored

Picture Description¹⁾

A silhouette of a person is reflected in a window of a modern building, showing a snowy scene outside.

Analysis¹⁾

This striking photograph captures a silhouette of a person taking a photograph, reflected in a large window. The figure stands against a backdrop of snow-covered ground, with the building's contemporary architecture visible through the glass. The reflection creates a layered effect, blurring the boundaries between the interior and exterior. The vivid colours and geometric shapes add a sense of abstraction to the scene, inviting the viewer to contemplate the relationship between the photographer, the subject, and the act of capturing a moment in time.
