Backyard Trees

Picture Description¹⁾

A monochrome photograph capturing a street scene with tall, bare trees framed by buildings on either side.

Analysis¹⁾
