Blue Refection II

Picture Description¹⁾

Abstract photograph featuring a blue building reflection fragmented across a grid of white tiles.

Analysis¹⁾

This abstract photograph presents a fragmented view of a modern building's reflection in a tiled surface, possibly water. The dominant color is a vibrant blue, representing the glass windows of the building. The sharp lines of the tiles contrast with the fluid and distorted reflection, creating a dynamic composition. The white tiles act as a negative space, further emphasizing the saturated blues and adding to the sense of abstraction. The photograph blurs the lines between reality and representation, inviting the viewer to question perception and the interplay of light and surface.
