Blue Refection V

Picture Description¹⁾

A building's mirrored glass facade reflects a distorted urban landscape and sky, punctuated by a pole and street sign on the left side and vegetation.

Analysis¹⁾

This photograph captures the distorted reflection of a building in the mirrored windows of another structure. The composition is divided into rectangular panes by the window frames, creating an abstract grid filled with fractured images of the sky, clouds, and architectural details. A pole and street sign on the left side add an element of reality to the otherwise surreal and fragmented scene. The bright blues and greens of the sky and vegetation contrast with the stark whites of the reflected buildings, resulting in a vibrant and visually intriguing piece.
