Streetcar Ride XVIII

Picture Description¹⁾

A selective color shot of a city street with modern buildings, barriers, and a church spire in the background, viewed from inside a tram.

Analysis¹⁾

This photograph captures an urban scene through the tinted lens of a tram window, creating a layered and slightly surreal perspective. The color palette is largely muted, with shades of grey dominating the buildings, street, and overcast sky. A selective desaturation technique is applied, leaving only specific elements in full, vibrant color. This creates a striking contrast and draws the viewer's eye to these chosen points. In the background, architectural structures of varying styles rise above the cityscape, including a church spire that pierces the skyline. Overhead electrical wires crisscross the view, further emphasizing the industrial and urban environment. The photograph provides a glimpse into the everyday life of the city, viewed from a unique and introspective point of view.
