Main Station Courtyard Construction I

Picture Description<sup>1)</sup>

A construction site is viewed through colorful industrial poles, with a crane and buildings in the background.

Analysis<sup>1)</sup>

This photograph offers a fragmented view of a construction site, seen through what appears to be the bars of a fence or some sort of barrier. The photograph is dominated by vibrant colors; a striking red on the left and right edges, and a glossy yellow and silver on the vertical elements in the foreground, which creates a visual separation between the viewer and the scene.
