Justice Building Stop

Picture Description<sup>1)</sup>

A street view featuring a tram track with a bus stop sign in the foreground and a grand building facade with statues in the background.

This photograph captures a street scene in front of a grand, classical building, presumably a courthouse or governmental structure, indicated by the lion sculptures at its entrance. The scene is dominated by a tram line running down the center of the street, leading the viewer's eye into the distance. A modern tram stop, marked with a large 'H' and the name 'Justizgebäude', stands prominently in the foreground, complete with transit information and schedules. The composition balances the imposing architecture with the mundane details of everyday urban life, creating a striking contrast between historical grandeur and contemporary practicality. The lighting is bright, casting long shadows across the street and highlighting the textures of the building and the tram tracks.
