Anatomy I

Picture Description¹⁾

A black and white photograph of a dissected human head model, half displaying skin and the other half revealing muscles.

Analysis¹⁾

This black and white photograph presents a striking juxtaposition of beauty and anatomy. A mannequin head is bisected down the middle: one side features a smooth, almost classical, depiction of a female face, while the other reveals the underlying musculature and skeletal structure, complete with exposed eye socket. The stark contrast highlights the transient nature of physical beauty and the often-hidden reality beneath the surface. The soft focus and shallow depth of field add an ethereal quality, drawing the viewer's attention to the central subject. The photograph is further framed by out-of-focus elements in the foreground and background, lending a sense of mystery and adding to the introspective mood.
