Supersach

Picture Description¹⁾

A close-up shot of a pillar adorned with various stickers.

Analysis¹⁾

This photograph captures a close-up of a weathered cylindrical post, likely a lamppost or similar urban fixture, adorned with an array of stickers. The stickers, layered and peeling, tell a story of public expression and urban decay. At the top, a sticker promotes environmental awareness, with a depiction of a ship and a hand, suggesting the message 'Stop TTIP'. Below this is a bold, stylish 'Colorshuk' sticker, followed by a red sticker reading 'Supersach', reminiscent of the Supreme logo in its design. The next sticker features a black and white graphic depicting a crowd cheering, with a longboard silhouette and the words 'VOLKSENTSCHEID MANUFAKTUR Longboards'. Further down, a tattered and incomplete sticker is visible, and at the very bottom, a sticker partially reveals the word 'KOLLEKTIV'. The texture of the post is rugged and worn, adding to the overall aesthetic of urban grit and the ephemeral nature of street art.
