Picture Description¹⁾

A narrow European street scene with a distant church tower framed between buildings.

Analysis¹⁾
