CREDIT SUISSE II

Picture Description¹⁾

A photograph featuring shadows of a person, a traffic signal, and some passersby on a concrete ground, creating a stark contrast.

Analysis¹⁾

This starkly contrasted black and white photograph captures a street scene dominated by shadows. The composition is framed by a pool of light illuminating a textured pavement. Within this light, we see the blurred legs and feet of a person walking, along with the distinct shadow of a sign above reading "CREDIT SUISSE". The photograph is dominated by the large shadow of someone appearing to be holding a phone to their ear. The photograph effectively uses light and shadow to create a sense of intrigue and perhaps a commentary on the presence of large institutions in everyday life. The limited color palette emphasizes the graphic elements and the interplay between absence and presence.
